REV. JOHN McDUGALL and Rev. C. E. Somerset returned Wednesday evening from a visit to Whitefish lake and intermediate Methodist missions. The snow fall of two weeks ago had not extended beyond Beaver Creek. Beyond that point the roads and weather were good. They left for the south this morning.
JAS. McKESSAN, of East Edmonton, had his right foot seriously injured by the wheel of his threshing engine on Tuesday last while working at Jas. Inkster's. He got upon the engine to see about something when his foot caught. The smaller toes were all smashed and part of the bones of the foot. The injured parts were amputated, and on Wednesday he was doing as well as could be expected.
THE Thistle hockey rink has been enlarged to 200 x 85 feet. The hockey rink proper will be the same size as last year, 165 x 55, but is now set in the centre of the ice with a border around it of 15 feet on the sides, and 20 feet at the ends for the skaters. The hockey rink will be protected by a four foot wall of lumber topped by a five foot wire netting. The band will play at the rink two nights in the week.
PLAINDALE: Five grain and milling companies now have their buyers in South Edmonton and grain is moving as freely as the mud will allow. George Searle represents the Northern Elevator Co.; J. W. Bain the Calgary Milling Co.; J. Holden the Edmonton Milling Co.; G. W. McIntyre the Brackman & Ker Milling Co., and O. Bush the Dominion Elevator Co.
W. H. CARSON arrived from Lesser Slave lake on Monday, nine and a half days out from the H. B. post. He brought through a number of passengers. The road from Slave lake post to Swan river is well out and will be good in time. Over the Swan hills there are some sideling places and some stiff pulls. From the Swan hills to the Deep Creek there is a good deal of muskeg, which will need a great deal of improvement to make a good summer trail.

ELECTION day to-morrow.

Messrs. F. F. Tims and J. W. Shera were nominated for Victoria district on Tuesday. Election on Tuesday next Nov. 8th.
MR. AND MRS. F. J. MCONEY left on this morning's train for Vancouver to reside there.
FIFTH street on the H. B. reserve has been graded between Victoria and McKay avenues.
THE Merchants' bank has removed from the BULLETIN block to the new building recently erected by C. Gallagher.

EN. LYONS has opened a wood yard. He cuts the wood to stove length by steam saw and will shortly add a steam splitting machine.
FOUR German Russian families came in on Monday's train to settle on the south side reserve. They numbered 27 souls and seemed to have some means.

D. MALONEY, F. Villeneuve and G. W. Gairdner were nominated for St. Albert electoral district on Wednesday. Election on Wednesday next Nov. 9th.
J. A. BEHRENS was committed for trial on Wednesday by W. S. Edmonson, J. P. He was admitted to bail, $1,000 himself and two sureties at $500 each.
G. W. BAYNE, H. B. Co. surveyor, returned this week from surveying reserves around the northern Hudson's Bay posts on the Mackenzie and Peace rivers.

In the preliminary hearing in the Bebec case before Mayor Edmonson the evidence for the prosecution was concluded on Monday evening. The defence was entered upon on Wednesday morning.

STAPLEY & BREWSTER have opened their machine shop on Namsa avenue and are ready to do all kinds of repairing to engines, boilers and other machinery. They have also started a grain crusher.

A HORSE driven by Mr. Briggs, of South Edmonton broke away from in front of the Alberta on Tuesday night and struck out at a rapid gallop on the Sturgeon trail. Neither the horse nor cart, to which it was hitched, has yet been found.

R. F. DODD returned this week from a season's explorations in the Peace river district. Mr. Dodd has been a land examiner for Osler, Hammond & Nanton for a number of years, and it is supposed that his visit to Peace river was with a view to future land operations by those gentlemen.

THRESHING is nearly finished in the Josephburg settlement, east of Fort Saskatchewan. John Mohr had 700 bushels of wheat on 14 acres. Gus. Doze had 32 bushels to the acre from 40 acres. The wheat of that settlement will probably average 30 bushels to the acre.

THE gold dredge Otter has been busy this week scooping out the upper end of Rose' lar in order to secure a safe berth in which to lie up for the winter. The dredging part of the machinery works perfectly. The gold saving part has not yet been fully adjusted, and the necessity of getting safely placed for the winter did not admit of the necessary delay in completing the adjustment. This dredge is far and away the most complete and powerful that has been tried on the river yet.

THRESHING is in progress throughout the settlement. D. Crozier on W. Cunt's Cat-bank farm of 425 acres has 5,500 bushels of wheat, 3,300 bushels oats, and 300 bushels barley. Mr. Crozier came from Kansas this spring. John Harold of Sturgeon had 334 bushels of wheat to the acre on the whole crop. His son had 57 bushels to the acre on one field. W. Nicolson had 43 bushels of wheat to the acre on his whole acreage. The grain is all in good condition.

A. ST. LAURENT, Dominion government engineer, returned on Sunday from a trip of inspection over the new Slave lake trail to the Athabasca river and some distance beyond. The department of public works required information as to the nature and purpose of this trail before expending any part of the $15,000 voted at last session of parliament on it. Mr. St. Laurent will report favorably. It is uncertain as yet whether the Dominion will repay the Northwest government, will improve the trail already constructed, or will continue the trail beyond its present terminus. Mr. St. Laurent left for Ottawa on Tuesday.

SUPREME COURT.

Court adjourned on Monday evening until Nov. 22nd.
The case of Smith vs. Roughsedge and Marriaggi vs. Vanbuskirk will be concluded then.

Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Dear Sir:
I desire to express my thanks to the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association of New York for cheque through you of $1,000 in full settlement of Claim No. 216455 held by my late husband in your Company, it having been paid long before due.

Assuring you that I shall always recommend the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association to those wishing reliable insurance at a rate far below that charged by the old line companies, and thanking you for your courteous treatment, I remain
Very truly yours,
(Signed) MATILDA M. PREDIN.

 BULLETIN CO. (LTD.)
 EDMONTON BULLETIN, NOV. 3RD, 1908.

VOLUME XXI.
 With this issue the BULLETIN enters upon its 21st volume and its 19th year of publication. It is not necessary to dwell upon the changes which have taken place in this town and district during those 18 years, nor upon the part taken by the BULLETIN during that time. Most of those years have been years of struggle, and sometimes of not altogether hopeful prospects. But they have been crowned with a fair measure of success. What was once almost a place of exile is now a point of attraction for all corners of the world. What was once the jumping off place, the furthest outpost of civilization beyond which lay a vast unknown, is now the gateway to a region of great and valuable resources, which is being explored in every direction, from Edmonton as a starting point.

The greatest and most important change is, that uncertainty has been succeeded by confidence. What is behind gives assurance of what is before. In the wider field that is thus opened around Edmonton the BULLETIN hopes to take the same important place that it held in the former narrower field, and to merit a support proportionate to that which has been accorded it in the past. If the BULLETIN were an organ of a person, corporation, clique or party it would depend upon that person, corporation, clique or party for its support. As it is the organ of the public at large it must depend upon the public at large for its support. If the work done by the BULLETIN is of value to the community it is worth while for the business community and all who are interested in the progress of the country to aid it in a business way.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR AND INDIAN COMMISSIONER.

The double appointment of A. E. Forget, late Indian commissioner, to be lieutenant-governor of the Territories, and of Hon. D. Laird, our first lieutenant-governor, to be Indian commissioner, gives general satisfaction. Lieutenant-Governor Forget's appointment is a compliment to the Territories in that he is a resident of many years, and has been intimately connected with Territorial public affairs ever since the organization of government here. He is not only familiar with the history of local government in the Territories, but he was part of that history; therefore he is in a better position to deal with difficult questions, should any arise, than one who was not so familiar. At the same time his being so long and so closely identified with the Territories is a guarantee that he will look favorably on legitimate Territorial aspirations. He is a gentleman of more than ordinary attainments, of attractive personality, and one who, while adhering to his views under even adverse circumstances, always inspired respect, and the belief that he was as honest as he was earnest in upholding them. Ill-health in recent years has been a heavy burden for him to bear, but no man ever bore such a burden with more cheerful heart, or allowed it to interfere less with his duties. It is the hope of everyone that in his new sphere his health may be restored and that he has yet many years of honor and usefulness before him. Of the new Indian commissioner it is sufficient to say that when lieutenant-governor he was also Indian commissioner, at a time when the dealings of the government with the Indians was at the most critical point. He negotiated the treaty with the Blackfeet, till that time the most difficult nation of Indians on the continent to deal with. His duties of lieutenant-governor and Indian commissioner were discharged successfully and honorably in every particular. There is therefore every reason to believe that his administration of Indian affairs will be thoroughly satisfactory. It is Hon. Mr. Laird's best recommendation that the announcement of his return to a share in Territorial affairs has been received with universal expressions of approval. There were no old sores left from his former administration. The government has been most happy in these two appointments.

TERRITORIAL ELECTIONS.

The number of acclamations which have occurred so far in the Territorial elections are an indication that no very pronounced opposition is being offered to the government of Messrs. Haultain and Ross, as the members so elected are all on the government side. The large number of candidates in many of the constituencies which are being contested is also an indication that the respective contests are on local or personal grounds, and that party lines either local or federal, have not been drawn.

The election of J. H. Ross, commissioner of public works, by acclamation; is a tribute to that gentleman's personal and political worth which must be most gratifying to him as it is creditable to the electors of Moose Jaw. Mr. Ross has had a hard fight in every election at which he offered in the Moose Jaw district since 1883. He was always successful, but this is the first occasion on which he has been honored with an acclamation. This after so many years of contest is particularly significant as to the esteem in which the government of which he is a member, as well as himself personally, is held. Contrary to general expectation Premier Haultain is being opposed in MacLeod district. On what grounds has not appeared, but there is no doubt without hope of success.

The efforts that have been made to run local politics on federal party lines—or in other words use the Territorial government and legislature as a donkey engine for one or the other party in federal politics, instead of for the welfare of the Territories—have not been crowned with success.

SLAVE LAKE SILVER.

A sample of galena ore from Great Slave lake was recently sent by J. A. McDougall to Dr. Dawson, director of the geological survey, for assay. The assay shows silver at the rate of 16 ounces to the ton. Or, leaving out the valueless rock, 38 ounces of silver to the ton of pure galena, that is lead and silver ore. This is a good showing considering the sample was only an outcrop, picked up practically at random; and proves that Great Slave lake is at least worthy of careful prospecting.

MOODIE'S LIGHTNING EXPRESS.

An Ottawa telegram says that Insp. Moodie and party were heard from under date of August 30th, at the junction of the Dease and Liard rivers, 150 miles from Pelly river. All his party were well. The despatch continues: "As the route to be subsequently followed by him has been frequently travelled and is not particularly hazardous, it is thought at the department that he must have reached Dawson ere this."

The despatch in detailing Moodie's blood curdling adventures says: "After enduring great hardships and losing all their horses Moodie and his men reached Fort Graham, in the Cassiar district of British Columbia on snow shoes." Fort Graham is not in the Cassiar district; Moodie did not lose his horses, he shot them to make food for his dogs—some of them before he left St. John on Peace River; and travelled by dog train all the way from St. John to Graham. The Ottawa liar should let Moodie and his trip alone. Better tell the truth and let it go at that, rather than by lying compel the whole truth to be told.

FINDLAY RIVER.

James E. Smith, one of a party who returned from a point on Findlay river, 120 miles above Fort Graham, has given the Bulletin some interesting particulars regarding matters and things in the upper Peace river region. He was a member of the Good Hope prospecting party, and reached Graham on July 3rd. The party prospected 120 miles up the Indianan tributary of the Findlay, which puts in from the west some distance above Graham. No strikes were made on this river, but very good galena was found.

D. McRae, of Edmonton, who had mined on the Saskatchewan for years, struck a bar on the main or west branch of the Findlay a short distance above the junction of the middle and east branches, and about 120 miles above Graham, out of which he made $85 in three days. He then came down the river and informed his brother and two partners and the Good Hope party of the strike. McRae's party took out $250 in a very few days and the Good Hope party took $150. The McRae's came down to Graham, purchased fresh supplies and started on for Pelly river. The Good Hope party divided. Smith and some of the others returning in order that the rest might be better fitted to go on.

The guide who had accompanied Moodie's party to Sylvester's Landing, had returned to Graham before Smith and party started for Edmonton. He informed them that the bar upon which they were mining was 40 miles from the head of Black river, a large tributary of the Liard. The trail followed up the middle branch of the Findlay. The portage to the Black river was only four miles. The traveling down Black river and across to Sylvester's Landing was good.

The Braithwaite, Miller and Jones parties travelling by boat, had reached a point within forty miles of Black river. They would use their horses to pack across the divide and were getting on well, all things considered.

Some members of the Fresno party worked on a bar up the Findlay, but only made small pay.

In passing along the Findlay Dan McRae in noticing the bars would say: "That looks to contain gold. If it were only harder, like the bars on the Saskatchewan I would prospect it." The formation on the bar which he did work was just the same as on the others. So that many other bars might have contained good pay, too, had they been prospected.

Large numbers of prospectors passed the Good Hope party's camp while they were at the mouth of the Indianan; all bound for Dease and Pelly rivers. None of those who went over the divide to Black river came back, therefore Mr. Smith thinks they must have gone on to Sylvester's Landing.

Upwards of 100 men are wintering between St. John and the head of the Black river. They have put up hay for their horses and have made themselves comfortable for the winter. Six men were mining at St. John, and others all the way up. The White party had gone up the Indianan to winter. Mr. and Mrs. Heiser; Mr. and Mrs. Nansen, Mr. and Mrs. Allen, Mr. Dunlap, of the Fresno party, some of the Bartle party, and others probably 30 in all, were wintering at and above Graham.

A very good deposit of mica had been discovered on the Findlay. Thirty-six families of Indians trade at Fort Graham. They seem very intelligent and most of them speak some English. They have no horses.

A large number of prospectors came to the Findlay by the Ashcroft route, but all went out again.

Very good vegetables are raised in the H. B. Co. garden at Fort Graham. The potatoes are excellent.

A man named Hopkins died some time in August near the summit of the pass between St. John and Graham. The party he was with held up on his account from May until August. The cause of death was said to have been rheumatism.

The band of cattle, 36 head, taken out by G. W. Lang, passed Fort Graham early in July. They were in good shape and none had been lost. One had been left at Dunvegan, and about 70 miles above Graham one was killed and the beef dried. They were packing 150 to 200 pounds each. The same party had 16 horses which ran loose, as the oxen did so much better than the horses under pack.

Jones' band of cattle was also doing well. He left 25 head at St. John to be slaughtered and sold during the winter, and 25 head more at Graham for the same purpose. He went on with 17 head and crossed the east branch of the Findlay about Sept. 10th, on the way to Sylvester's Landing. He had lost one by its getting a leg broken at Peace River Crossing and sold one at St. John. He also was packing some of the cattle.

The Good Hope party travelled from Edmonton with sleighs to Dunvegan. From there they packed to St. John over a good trail with plenty of feed. Timber light, no muskeg except the large one seven miles across. Through timber for 39 miles beyond St. John, but good trail. Then Jim Rose prairie, thousands of acres of pasture and hay. Beyond prairie a 35 mile belt of timber in which no feed, but the travelling not bad. Beyond this timber, Half way river which is followed to the summit. Plenty of feed all the way; not bad travelling; very gentle rise. Mountains rounded and grassy; no jagged peaks. Picked ripe strawberries on the summit on June 20th. Sixteen days from St. John to Graham. Forged every stream. Beyond the summit the Osipica is crossed. Trail had with swamp and fallen timber for a day on each side of the Osipica. Last day to Graham very good except for six miles of down timber. Trail from Graham up the Findlay very fair. Feed all the way. The canon of the Findlay is 30 miles above Graham. The boats pass this by a mile portage. Another canon occurs on the middle fork of the Findlay which the trail to Black river follows. The west branch is the main stream of the Findlay and is the one which was found to be gold bearing. Thirty miles above Graham there is a prairie of a thousand acres with abundant hay and pasture. The Walker party, from Agrioola, were 30 miles above Graham on July 10th.

The Indians east of the mountains have large numbers of horses and their stallions were a great nuisance to the prospectors. A number of them were shot by the prospectors and the Indians were very wrathful in consequence, and for a time matters looked ugly.

Coming down Mr. Smith and party left camp, 120 miles above Graham, on Sept. 15th. They remained about a week at Graham and were only two days from there to Cus's house at the head of Rocky Mountain portage, by water.

It is doubtful if the Parle pas and Findlay rapids, on the Peace, can be navigated by steamers unless they are improved.

They met Dr. Nichols at St. John only 15 days out from Edmonton, bound for the Findlay, to stake claims which he had located on his former trip.

ST. ALBERT NOMINATIONS.
The nominations for St. Albert district took place at St. Albert on Wednesday:
D. Maloney was nominated by Jos. Couture, V. Lawrence, Miles Kennedy and Dr. Tierney. Color blue.
F. Villeneuve by P. McMormott, Jos. Bourgeois, E. Brossan, M. Hettiger, D. Craig, M. Dolan, Alex. Cameron and J. Latulippe. Color black.
G. W. Gairdner by Norbert Bellerose, Frank Juneau and others. Color red.
A protest was filed against the nomination paper of D. Maloney by F. Villeneuve.
1st. Because the residence and professions of the signers of the nomination paper are not mentioned in the said paper.
2nd. Because the names of the electors nominating Mr. Maloney were signed before an alien, and a commissioner who never was sworn to act as such.
3rd. Because it was signed only by three qualified electors.

EGG LAKE.
Mr. Villeneuve paid us a visit one Sunday recently and briefly explained his position to the assembled electors. Mr. Maloney also called on a few of the faithful and promised to hold a public meeting before the election takes place. Present indications point to a pretty well divided vote in this polling division.
While Mr. Angus McDonald was threshing at George Miller's place the other day he had a narrow escape from losing his machine owing to a fire started by a careless smoker. As it was two wheat stacks were burned for Mr. Miller. Smokers cannot be too careful with their pipes around a stack. Angus McDonald's new threshing is one of the best that we have seen.
Roderick Fraser, of Ontario, has been on a visit to his brothers here during the past two weeks. He speaks highly of the country and intends to sell out in the east and take up land here next spring.
Joseph Kindler was married to Miss Jeanette Arnault last Thursday. After the wedding a sumptuous spread was enjoyed by the guests and in the evening dancing was the chief attraction. The young couple will reside on Mr. Kindler's farm. We wish them a long, happy and prosperous union.
La Grippe is rather prevalent around here now and several of our settlers are in its clutches, but none very seriously.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN.
At a meeting held in the school house on Saturday evening Messrs. Shera and Tims, discussed the public questions of the day. Mr. Tims supports the Haultain Ross government because Messrs. Haultain and Ross are the ablest men in the Legislature, and because he approves of their general policy. He outlined his work during his past term of office.
Mr. Shera runs as an independent candidate. He opposes the government on their policy of one Northwest province. He believes there should be at least two, one of which must be up here somewhere. He thought money was often spent at present on roads never used.
Both candidates thought an experimental farm should be established near here.
Mr. Mariaggi occupied the chair. There was a large attendance, and both candidates got a good hearing.
Edith Pollard, about two years old, died yesterday and will be buried to-day.
Oct. 31st, '98.
